

A number of links are set up on the first page of the account details information:

Click on:

DCAD Property Map

to go to the property location on the DCAD map.

Click on:

to go to photographs of improvements on the property. These are not available over the web on residential properties.

Print Homestead Exemption Form

Click on:

to print a Homestead Exemption form for the property. The form will include the owners name and address, the legal description for the property and a bar code of the account number, thus easing the processing of the application when it is received at DCAD. There is no fee for processing this application.

Click on:

YAHOO! Maps

to go to Yahoo's web site and see the location of the property using Yahoo maps.
